

Degree Requirements (for Students Matriculating to a University Between Sept. 2011 and Aug. 2012)

For these requirements, consult the CORE program in the current Undergraduate Catalog.

Students are required to earn a minimum of 122 credits. Accredited journalism programs require majors to complete successfully approximately two-thirds of their coursework in areas other than journalism and communication. The Philip Merrill College of Journalism at the University of Maryland adheres to this nationwide policy. In practical terms, this means that of the 122 minimum credits required for graduation, a journalism student must take 41 credits in journalism (numbered 100 or above). Of the remaining 81 credits, a minimum of 65 must be earned in liberal-arts designated courses).

The Philip Merrill College of Journalism stipulates that 56 of the total credits must be taken in upper-level courses (courses numbered 300-499).

Required courses for all journalism majors regardless of whether journalism is a student's primary or secondary major:

I. Journalism requirements outside the College

Students must complete the following liberal arts coursework complementing the University's general education requirements. For the University's general education (CORE) requirements, consult the CORE program in the current Undergraduate Catalog.
